A Reflection by Fr. Denis

Envy and greed are self-centred. They lead us to want as much as possible for ourselves, and to think that what another has is something I should have. It is true that such a world view often emerges from our own sense of emptiness. Not having any sense of our fulfilment, we look elsewhere to fill the gap, but the gap is never filled. Instead we can look to the Lord and His teachings, for His grace and His guidance reveal a way forward in the labyrinth. The move to a greater generosity of spirit and a delight in what others achieve and have is a major step forward in human and spiritual growth. If we can do that, we can break the vicious circle of envy and become fully alive in the kingdom of God.

If you are new to the parish please contact the parish priest – details above.

Fr. Denis writes ...

St Francis of Assisi and his devoted follower, Masseo, were at a crossroads. Which way did God want them to go in order to preach the gospel? One road led to Siena and the other to Arezzo, but which road did God want them to follow? Francis told Masseo to spin around 'like a top' until he fell. Francis instructed him to stand up and repeat the process. Dizzy and feeling thoroughly sick, this time Masseo dropped to the ground, his head pointed in the direction of Siena. They set off in that direction.

Jesus told a man to follow Him and, presumably, set off in a certain direction. The details of his following might have been complicated: we are told of one prospective follower who wanted to say goodbye to his family and of another who wanted to bury his father. These seem perfectly good and justifiable reasons. What Jesus was trying to tell people was that there can be no half-hearted measures in following Him. Reaching the kingdom of God requires wholehearted commitment.

Discernment is not always easy and straightforward. Many people tussle with genuine difficulties as they attempt to discover the way in which God is calling them. They have given themselves heart and soul to God, but strive to find their vocation within their primary Christian vocation. St Francis' method was unorthodox but it led to restoring peace in troubled Siena. What is God asking of me? Is my road sometimes unclear? How could I gain a better sense of direction?

Looking forward to meeting you all again!

HOME MISSION SUNDAY 21 SEPTEMBER 2014

Supporting outreach to non-churchgoing (lapsed) Catholics

This year's theme:
Evangelisation 'in the heart of the family'

Many children and young people will never see their parents receive the sacraments. Every Catholic who goes to Mass knows someone who currently is distant from the family of the faith – the parish community. On 21 September 2014 the Catholic bishops of England and Wales ask that Home Mission Sunday is celebrated in every parish to invite prayer and support for the work of evangelisation. Please pray for and help the bishops to develop new ways to reach out to non-churchgoing (lapsed) Catholics by supporting the second collection. For more information, free resources and to donate online: www.catholicnews.org.uk/hms14 #hms14 Thank you for your support and do pick up a free prayer and information card about Home Mission Sunday as you leave church on 21 September.

SVP CONFERENCE MASS is on Friday 26 September at 9.30 am. Please join us if you can in this celebration of thanksgiving for the past year's work. Join us afterwards at the Macmillan Coffee Morning which we are supporting.

Circle of Prayer for September – Home mission

Lord Jesus, increase in us a desire to live the good news of the gospel in our homes our workplace our communities. May others come to know Your unending love and mercy through the actions of our lives. May Your love be upon us O Lord as we place all our trust in You.
